ABOUT

I'm neurodivergent, and for most of my career I could force my way through technical work—coding, WordPress, Adobe—but it wasn't accessible. It took an unreasonable amount of effort. These tools were built with a narrow idea of who the user was. AI changed that.

WHY ANTHROPIC

Claude is the first technology I've used that actually changed what I'm able to do. From social media to blockchain, Silicon Valley has a long history of building new tools that claim to serve people, but in practice end up serving the companies behind them.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I've spent twenty years as a journalist asking questions until things make sense. I know how to tell when something sounds smart but doesn't hold up, and how to push until it does. I've spent twenty years getting experts to explain what they know in ways that make other people care. I've reported on tax policy, police oversight, zoning, liver metabolism, and more.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance Journalist & Writer

2004 – Present

Independent

Twenty years of journalism covering tax policy, police oversight, zoning, liver metabolism, and wide-ranging investigative topics. Long-form storytelling and investigative reporting.

Documentary & Podcast Producer

Crypto Documentary Project

Independent Production

Produced a show on crypto with an Australian podcaster. Expanded into documentary format, traveling to Palo Alto to interview founders from companies like Augur and DFINITY on scalability and third-party trust. Walked away from the project rather than publish something that couldn't stand behind its claims.

AI & Technology Advocate
